

You can save and retrieve your GREP routines

How do we use Change to ?

It may be a simple case of replacing with something else but often we want to subdivide what we have found or replace with a segment.

Here we are replacing with the found text in the brackets.